6. Museum Director's Report.

Museum Director Beth Lemke spoke to her report located in the agenda packet material. She provided additional handouts (attached) in which she highlighted.

Per the request from Chairman Van Dyck, also attached, were the formal documents that were assessed by teachers in the Green Bay School System for Curriculum Aligned Field Trips. As reported the Neville did not have approved Curriculum Aligned Field Trips for 15 years. This past fall Museum Educator Ryan Swadley and Lemke worked directly with district Curriculum and Instruction staff to gain approval and be added to the list. The Neville programs conformed to national, state and local standards. They were theme based and the approval was huge for the Neville and shocking that they were not on the list for such a long time.

Motion made by Supervisor Campbell, seconded by Supervisor Lefebvre to receive and place on file. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

9. Discussion re: parking on CTH MM.

Van Dyck informed that this was addressed at the May PD&T Committee, Public Works Director agreed to put up the no parking signs on CTH MM and the committee concurred with that decision so hopefully they will be up soon to alleviate congestion. The Town of Ledgeview was informed of the county's decision and was strongly encouraged to implement no parking on the town roads which were near the park as the county had no jurisdiction. They did have a friendly discussion with a couple of their board member and Administrator and he assumed they would follow suit but couldn't guarantee it.

Motion made by Supervisor Katers, seconded by Supervisor Campbell to receive and place on file. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

10. Discussion re: alcohol ban in Fonferek's Glen.

Van Dyck informed this was an extension of a conversation that was held at the Public Safety meeting. They discussed trying to increase the number of patrols by the Sheriff Departments and were not in favor of hiring a deputy to be onsite on a regular basis during the summer months as there was an issue with training in the regard that they did not have enough deputies to extend service to the park on a full time basis and to train a deputy by the time they were done, it would be beyond the season thus there wouldn't be any benefit and the only way they could do it would be increased in overtime for existing officers which they were not too inclined to do. They took it under advisement and the decision was to have the Parks Department work in conjunction with the Sheriff's Department to try and increase patrols in the area and patrol the park as much as possible. However, one thing that did come out of that discussion, Supervisor Zima raised the question about the potential of having an alcohol ban in the park and after talking about it more, it had some merit to have a conversation about.

Kriese felt the Public Safety meeting went well and gave Zima credit. At first he was reluctant to having an alcohol ban but it made sense. There were some spots where alcohol may be fine but others that they did need to look at and not only for the environmental aspects due to the escarpment and cliffs, but because of behavioral issues. If an alcohol ban was active at Fonferek's Glen, they wouldn't be out of line; many other county parks in Wisconsin, Midwest and nation have this, etc. He reached out to a lot of park directors across Wisconsin and Portage County had issues at Sunset Lake back in the late 90s and they implemented the no alcohol and implemented other ordinances as well and it went back to being a family friendly area. City of Green Bay had parks that did and did not allow alcohol, City of Madison, Dane County, City of Milwaukee; this was nothing new where they needed to worry about it. It was going to take a collective approach by implement an alcohol ban, plus a gate and more security, etc. It would take a few citations to be issued and that word was going to spread and they could make headway there. It was something he would support at Fonferek's Glen. Responding to Katers, Kriese had no reasons why he wouldn't want to.

Van Dyck felt this park wasn't designed as a gathering place for it wasn't intended for that particular purpose and it was a safety concern, whether it was legal or illegal, consuming alcohol and walking on cliffs was not a good combination. It was a unique park in that regard where they didn't have those same issues at other parks and he felt they all went hand in hand with each other.

Motion made by Supervisor Katers, seconded by Supervisor Lefebvre to open the floor to allow interested parties to speak. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

Nick Selk – 2850 Rd.

Selk saw the expanded parking and questioned if there was a timeline for the no parking signs. It really brought to light the need for supervision and more eyes in the park. It seems as though the people that come to the park have become bold and increased considerably and grown and considers regular surveillance.

Katie Martin – 2947 Dutchman Rd.

Neighbors come to her about their issues as they don't feel heard. She felt the no alcohol in park was a good idea but not closely enough. There are people drinking by the quarry and in the woods, which is the second half of the park and where they are having issues with pot. It's not just alcohol but other things. Last Memorial Day Weekend they heard gunshots in the middle of the day at the park during the day. Also, they had people on personal property and don't care about the signs. Consider next year consider fencing or something. People don't respect the rules and simply putting a sign out no drinking, they don't care even with the threat of a citation.

Motion made by Supervisor Katers, seconded by Supervisor Lefebvre to return to regular order of business. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

Motion made by Supervisor Katers, seconded by Supervisor Campbell to instruct staff to develop and ordinance for an alcohol and smoking ban in Fonferek's Glen. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

11. Update re: parking, safety and use at Fonferek's Glen.

The consensus was to create a security type position above a seasonal but not a full time position to get through Labor Day, approximately 640 hours, which would be a good start.

Motion made by Supervisor Van Dyck, seconded by Supervisor Kater to direct staff to come up with a cost and develop a resolution to request funding for additional staffing. Vote taken. MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

12. Park Attendance and Field Staff Reports for April.

Mary Jane Herber: Awarded the Governor's Award for Archival Advocacy chosen by the Wisconsin State Historical Society.

For over 40 years Mary Jane has guided people from all over the world, helping them with Brown County local history and genealogy. Because of her work, generations have and will continue to be impacted because of the efforts she has put into curating the historical documents of the county. She has allowed us all to have a collective memory of our past.

Just a few of Mary Jane's accomplishments, not the least of which was helping me get an A on my 4th grade genealogy project in 1985.

- She also was instrumental in leading Paper Wall project that identified all Wisconsinites who lost their lives in the Vietnam War.
- This was part of something even bigger that she helped start. LZ Lambeau helped thousands of Vietnam veterans tell their story.
- Her relationships with Wisconsin public television has led to numerous other endeavors with them.
- She helped Pulitzer Prize winner David Marinass with his book When Pride Still Mattered about Vince Lombardi, the Packers, and Green Bay.
- She also helped a Japanese woman and a Dutch man come together on research about a missionary in Green Bay who had ties to both the Netherlands and Japan.
- She not only helps authors, she develops relationships with them. So much so, that they are willing to speak to our public about their books. Without her influence it's unlikely we would get Pulitzer Prize authors without significant dollars being spent.
- For decades she has lead the local history and genealogy series that are packed with people wanting to learn, spreading her knowledge so future generations can continue her work.

With that, I'd like to congratulate her on winning this award.

A formal ceremony is being planned in October. Once we have the date and time official invites will be coming.

What's New at the Neville Public Museum?

This April we adopted a new format for our guided tours based on feedback from curriculum coordinators with the Green Bay Area School District. The biggest change we made was switching from a chronological to a thematic format using the overarching concepts provided by the district as our guiding themes.

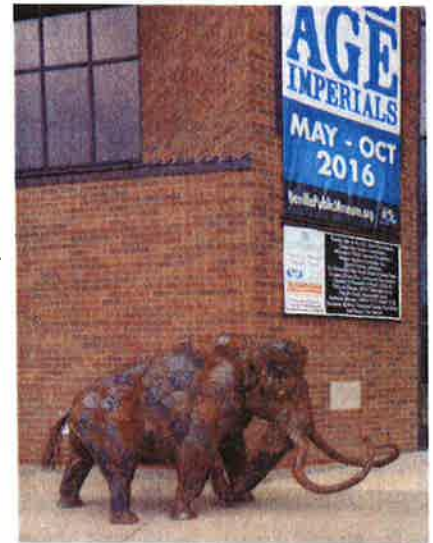

My hope is that taking a thematic approach to Northeastern Wisconsin history will better align with your goals in the classroom and will allow us to share more of the museum with students that visit the museum. More information is available on the reverse of this page and on our website, and I'd be delighted to talk more with you via telephone or email.

Coming Soon...

In addition to offering new-and-improved guided tours onsite, we have been experimenting with virtual learning using Google Hang Outs to connect with classrooms and share artifacts in our collection that are not usually on display. Our first programs have showcased items such as the museum's doll collection, ancient Egyptian artifacts, archaeological pieces from Brown County, and a tableful of objects which have now been replaced by your smart phone.

These programs will be available in 2017; please call, email, or check back on our website for more details and to learn how to schedule a session.

Our newest piece of outdoor art, a woolly mammoth created by local artist Carl Vanderhayden.

Google Cardboard is a simple VR viewer that anyone can build or buy. Once you've assembled your Cardboard, you can begin to explore a variety of apps that explore the world around you. YouTube 360 degree videos works in conjunction with Google Cardboard. Google Expeditions is an expansion of Google Cardboard. Expeditions is a virtual reality platform that is specifically built for the classroom. Building on the success of Google Cardboard, Google, along with teachers and content partners from around the world, paired up to create more than 150 engaging journeys. Expeditions provides teachers with the ability to immerse their students in entirely new experiences all from the comfort and convenience of their classroom. Expeditions has been on a slow release, but is targeted to be available for mainstream use by the fall of 2016.
Microsoft Virtual Field Trips	Microsoft Virtual Field Trips is a resource with a multitude of content specific activities. The teacher can register for a date and time that is available through the site or request an appointment that works for their class schedule. The participants will see visuals, pictures, paintings, etc. that connect to the specific topic while being guided through the learning experience. There are also lesson activities for the teacher to have students participate in that go along with the tour. Example - Cultural Perspectives where students are asked to draw a portrait prior to the lesson. This example is a high school lesson, but the activity was a good example of how to bring students into the virtual lesson. There are lessons for all ages and multiple content areas. Examples: Penguins, Canadian Fur Trade, Elephant Conservation, Cheetabs
Mystery Skype Mystery Hangouts LiveStream Events	Skype, Google Hangouts, and LiveStream are all platforms where a person could video call another person in real-time (or record a video call). Using the video call technology, one user could give another a virtual tour/field trip of a location, with the other observing and asking questions. In a "Mystery" Skype, Livestream, or Hangout, the users would compete to guess where the other was located either by asking a series of yes/no questions or looking at the others' surroundings to determine their location.

Nearpod Virtual Field Trips Nearpod Virtual Reality (some free but paid option unlocks many more)	Nearpod offers interactive lessons with about 12 free experiences and others if the teacher has a paid account. The teacher is able to invite students into the session via a code so no personal information is necessary to participate, however a permission slip for students under 13 is required to access the content. The teacher can lead students to various destinations including a trip to Mars. Students are able to view images, engage in content, and participate in formative feedback activities included in the field trips.

RE: Packer RV Parking and Camping at the Brown County Fairgrounds

The recent change in RV parking/camping near Lambeau Field has resulted in a lack of parking for these visitors. The past parking allowed for nearly 400 RV parking spots, all of which have been eliminated. The Brown County Parks Department realizes the need for increased RV parking around the Greater Green Bay Area.

After researching the future RV parking with local business people we have learned that 230-280 RV spots will be available in the shadows of Lambeau Field starting this fall. This still leaves a deficit of over 100 RV parking spots.

- The fairgrounds property is permitted to hold 100 RVs and/or camping units.
- Green Bay Metro Transit has recently added a public transit pick-up and drop off near the site
- Several events occur at the fairgrounds during Packer game weekends (limiting the capacity)
- The fairgrounds offers restrooms, showers, water and electric
- The property does not have the ambiance of Lambeau Field
- Current camping fees are $30 for electric and water sites

It is my recommendation to create a special event (i.e. Packer Game weekend parking/camping) fee of $50 or $60 per day to offset this increased use and allow the Park Department to block out these weekends from other events.
